

ELECTRONIC DATA INTERCHANGE COMMITTEE CHARTER

The purpose of the Electronic Data Interchange Committee ("EDIC") is the implementation and maintenance of electronic standards for use by stakeholders transmitting workers' compensation related data to and from authorized data collection organizations. The products of the EDIC shall include the WCIO Workers' Compensation Data Specifications Manual, the Data Reporting Handbook, and the WCIO Data Dictionary. The primary purpose of the EDIC shall be fulfilled by engaging in the following activities:

- A. Engaging in regular meetings for the purpose of reviewing and improving existing flat file and XML data standards;
- B. Creating and recommending new data standards based on the input of the DAC or PRAC;
- C. Seeking the input of WCIO stakeholders regarding future data reporting standards;
- D. Creating electronic publications or applications which clearly communicate standards and changes and enhancements thereto;
- E. Researching and recommending methodologies for increasing the efficient reporting of data;
- F. Ensuring the EDIC includes representatives with sufficient experience and training to fulfill the needs of the EDIC; and
- G. Regularly reporting the EDIC's activities to the WCIO Board of Directors, including making any related recommendations.

The EDIC may include individual participants who are either employees of WCIO Members or who are employees of workers compensation insurance carriers. The chair and vice-chair of the EDIC shall include only employees of a WCIO Member.
